

LONG YEARS AGO

January 1, 1904

A movement is on foot to organize a joint stock company to erect a hall in Didsbury.

The E.V. Christmas tree came off as announced. Mrs. Bersch's rendering of solo was magnificent.

Hockey teams are organized and it is hoped the weather will stay long enough to get good ice.

Land in the Didsbury district is now selling as high as $12.50 per acre for improved farms.

The winter is dealing very leniently with us up to the present and farmers so far have not had to feed stock.

Home seekers are still passing through here.

GASOLINE UP TWO CENTS

The price of Alberta crude oil to producers will be increased 45¢ a barrel on January 1, and the price of gasoline and all other "white products" to motorists and all other consumers in Alberta and Saskatchewan and part of Manitoba will be increased by two cents a gallon, commencing January 1st. These changes will probably be permanent.

The increase in the price of crude oil will average about 37 percent and will mean an increase in the revenue of producing wells of from 30 to 100 percent. It will no doubt spur the search for more oil.

MODE OF TRAVEL RESTRICTED DURING PRE-XMAS STORM

The snow storm setting in Friday before Christmas with a south east wind, blocked all roads in the highway and for a time it looked as though the holiday season would be a stay-at-home affair. However, the storm soon passed over and on Saturday the Municipal District of Mountain View had all snow plows out and main roads were cleared up. In the afternoon many folk were coming down the best way available. Sleighs and cutters were on the roads, while numerous tractor drawing sleighs were in evidence.

Most of the side roads are still snow bound, but are gradually being opened up. Milder weather occurred over the week end and has continued with warmer winds from the west, but there is now too much snow to ever dream of it going before spring.

We have not had exceptionally cold weather so far this season the winter has been steady with an estimated snow fall of over 30 inches to date. What it will be before spring comes is another matter. The weather conditions we are having are real midtime winter.

Sleek men have been forced to feed heavily the past six weeks, and while some feed has been shipped out of the west country, some farmers are beginning to be short of feed and marketing of live stocks are in prospect if the winter weather continues.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Webber and family spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCulloch.

Mrs. Ruth Eckel, Mrs. Lyn Hunsperger and family, were dinner guests at Mrs. B. Wood's farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Brander spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCulloch.

Mrs. T. Thompson of Calgary spent Christmas with her son Alfie and wife.

Mrs. Emily Hunter of Calgary returned to spend Christmas with her family.

With the lifting of all rationing restrictions on tires at January 1st, the prospect that anyone who really needs tires will be able to obtain them from dealers without difficulty was welcomed from government sources at Ottawa.

While Hon. C.D. Howe said that "present stocks are such that all demands cannot be met immediately," this statement was amplified by other government officials who stated they believed "all normal current demands" will be met without difficulty.

The officials explained that naturally dealers would have to cooperate if all who needed tires are to get them. However, if motorists keep their purchases down to actual needs then everyone should be looked after, said officials.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bir of High River, and Miss Grace Ranton of Edmonton spent Christmas in town with Mr. and Mrs. E.G. Ranton.

MONA SCHOOL CONCERT

In spite of a stiff south east wind and sub-zero temperatures with badly drifted roads, the Mona school concert was held the evening of December 23rd. Mr. George Tingle, and the concert proved a most enjoyable affair. Mrs. B.A. Atkinson and her pupils are to be complimented, as the former suffered a severe attack of the flu the first part of December.

Santa appeared during the evening and was extra good to pupils and teacher alike.

BURNSIDE NEWS NOTES

Mrs. Pat Sprague (a patient of Keith Sanatorium) was permitted to spend Christmas at home with her family. We hope she enjoyed the reunion, no doubt she did and that she will have the pleasure of a permanent reunion in the near future.

We are sorry to hear that little Don Schumacher accidentally scalded himself with hot water on Xmas Day, and had to be taken to the hospital for treatment.

Mr. H. H. H. was removed to the hospital on Christmas day, too, with a severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Webber and family spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCulloch.

Mrs. Ruth Eckel, Mrs. Lyn Hunsperger and family, were dinner guests at Mrs. B. Wood's farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Brander spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCulloch.

Mrs. T. Thompson of Calgary spent Christmas with her son Alfie and wife.

The old story of the boy calling "Wolf! Wolf!" was well illustrated late on Boxing night, or next morning to be correct. At 2:30 a.m. the "general alarm" rang on the phone, and it is five days now since in cases of fire emergency, we have been needed quickly. When the residents took their receivers down after jumping out of bed they heard a "dampnum" voice say: "We are all drunk!" I wonder what would happen if at a later hour a real emergency should have been seen.

We wish the best and family a Prosperous and Happy New Year and may the Pioneer continue its growth in both material and circulation.

Teach The Truth

THERE ARE MANY APPROACHES to the problem of eradicating Nazism from the minds of the German people, and of establishing a sane and humanitarian outlook. While they were in office, Hitler and his followers used every means they could devise to sow seeds of greed, cruelty and hate in the minds of both children and adults, and the task of undoing their evil work is an enormous one. One of the most direct and effective ways of dealing with the problem is through the schools, and work has already started on the re-organization of the German educational system. In the British zone in Germany military authorities have proceeded speedily with arrangements to open schools and secure teachers and textbooks. At the middle of October it was reported that some 6,500 schools had been reopened, with an attendance of approximately 1,500,000 pupils.

Great Scarcity Of Textbooks The greatest difficulty in the way of re-organizing the educational system has been in securing suitable textbooks. Books which had been used in the schools during the Nazi regime contained anti-Semitic and Fascist propaganda and were all destroyed by order of the British military authorities. In their place, reprints of pre-1933 textbooks of German authorship were brought back into use, after being carefully examined and found suitable. In spite of the serious paper shortage one million books have already been printed for use in the lower grades in elementary schools. As an experiment, textbooks for teaching English to Hamburg children are being written in Basic English. School broadcasts are used to help fill gaps left by shortages of textbooks, and films are also used for this purpose. Teachers are chosen with great care, and it has been possible to find many who are anxious to undo the harm done by the Nazis, and to teach the new generation of Germans that hate and greed do not pay.

Critical Lack Of Buildings The shortage of school buildings has also proved a difficult problem and at the beginning of the period of British occupation none were available, all having been destroyed or used for other purposes.

Now many have been restored for use, but there is great overcrowding in most districts and often several schools share one building, schools hours being "staggered" and classes being held from eight in the morning until eight at night. The teachers are faced with many difficulties. Older children have been taught Nazi principles, and they must be re-educated. Younger children are retarded because of the disorganization caused by air-raids and the general confusion which preceded the collapse of Germany last spring. "Teach the Truth" is the basis of education by the British in Germany, and it is to be hoped that through this, foundations may be laid for a new democratic Germany which will comprehend the values of peaceful living and co-operation with other nations.

SMILE AWHILE

A waitress asked me what I wanted. "I feel like a sandwich," I said. She said, "Just give me your order. Don't blame me if the place is overcrowded."

The optimist believes that the time is ripe.

The pessimist is convinced that it's rotten.

"Aren't you walking up for Dad tonight, Mother?"

"It's no use. With this cold I can hardly speak."

Husband: "That racket? Oh, that's the coal men dumping the coal in the basement."

Wife: "But I thought you ordered soft coal this year!"

Poor old Bill's be workin' himself to death.

"How's that?"

"Well, see that short-sighted 'e can't see when the boss ain't lookin'?"

"My dear, surely you haven't spent all the afternoon at the saloon?"

Yes, Auntie. They said such things about everyone who left that I didn't dare come away."

Blake: Don't you think it's a good idea to rate all ears according to their horsepower?

Drake: Not as good as rating all drivers according to their horse sense.

"Hard work never killed any one."

"That's the trouble, Dad. I want to do something with the spirit of adventure in it."

Bachelor Uncle: "How old is the baby?"

Proud Father: "Six months."

Bachelor Uncle: "Talk yet?"

Proud Father: "No, not yet."

Bachelor Uncle: "Boy, eh?"

Husband: "That racket? Oh, that's the coal men dumping the coal in the basement."

Wife: "But I thought you ordered soft coal this year!"

Poor old Bill's be workin' himself to death.

"How's that?"

"Well, see that short-sighted 'e can't see when the boss ain't lookin'?"

"My dear, surely you haven't spent all the afternoon at the saloon?"

Yes, Auntie. They said such things about everyone who left that I didn't dare come away."

WHERE HE LEFT OFF

An Army captain walked into the library at Baltimore and asked for a copy of Marguerite Steen's novel, "The Sun is My Undoing." A library official said the captain explained he had read as far as page 735 when he went overseas in 1941 and now wanted to finish the book. He has 441 pages to go.

An Old Problem

How To Open Sardine Cans Is Puzzling British People

Britain is obtaining 28,000,000 cans of sardines from Spain, and the old problem of how to open a can of sardines has reappeared in post-war form. Letters in the newspapers have raised the question why, in this modern age, someone does not invent an easier method of getting sardines out of the can. During the war, when sardines were scarce, the tins were often distributed without the key which is intended for opening them.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

CHRISTIANITY

Christianity is not a theory or speculation, but a life; not a philosophy of life, but a life and a living process.—Coleridge.

A wise man will always be a Christian, because the perfection of wisdom is to know where lies tranquillity of mind, and how to attain it, which Christianity teaches.—Lander.

Christianity is a companion of liberty and of the conflicts of the cradle of human infancy. In the days of its childhood, Christianity was the face of its claims. —Da Tocqueville

He who shall introduce into public affairs the principles of primitive Christianity will change the face of the world.—Benjamin Franklin.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.—Christ Jesus (John 14:12).

BANKERS REVIEW CANADIAN ECONOMIC SCENE

George W. Spinney, president, and B. C. Gardner, general manager, who addressed shareholders at the Bank of Montreal's 128th annual meeting.

WORK ESSENTIAL TO SECURITY GEORGE W. SPINNEY DECLares

President of Bank of Montreal Says Inflationary Pressures Still Great—Urges Continuance of Voluntary Restraints

GENERAL MANAGER B. C. GARDNER REVIEWS MOST ACTIVE YEAR AT 128TH ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS—DISCUSSES CUSTOMER RELATIONS

Montreal.—"Government can distribute no benefits that individuals, through their labour, do not provide." George W. Spinney, president of the Bank of Montreal told shareholders at their 128th annual meeting recently. He expressed the opinion the Canadian war would continue to exact more in the way of government facilities and assistance in the future than they did before the war and made it clear that he felt there was a place in our economy for such measures "if they are soundly conceived and wisely administered."

Speaking at the same meeting, B. C. Gardner, general manager, said the bank had passed through its most active year and outlined economic developments in Canada and other countries as they were likely to affect the future of the Dominion's senior banking institution.

Mr. Spinney told the shareholders: "If a bank is to fulfil its function, it must be a bank that can be relied upon to provide a safe and sound banking service, to provide ample and undivided protection to depositors but must, within its appropriate sphere, serve the credit needs of the community," he said.

Active Year Reported

In reviewing the annual statement of the bank's financial position, the general manager, B. C. Gardner, reported that new peaks had been reached in assets, liquid assets, deposits and holdings of Dominion and Provincial Government securities. Total assets were reported $1,715,324,000, an increase of $100,000,000 in the previous year while total stock assets aggregated $1,461,326,000 or 80.4 per cent. of all liabilities to the public. Total deposits in Canada and abroad increased 10 per cent. during the year to reach a new peak of $1,613,229,000, while the number of deposit accounts reached a new total in excess of 1,000,000.

Mr. Gardner returned to the growth of personal loans and said, "It is not our policy to encourage people to incur unnecessary debt, but we believe that our personal loan facilities may be used to advantage in our planned financial programme and may be used by borrowers in a manner fully consistent with the principles of thrifty and sensible management of their affairs."

Mr. Gardner said that the volume of banking transactions during the year had exceeded all previous records and added "we welcome all opportunities within our power to extend our service to the public."

Customer Relations

In discussing the bank's relations with customers, he said, "This bank does not deal in money alone. In our day-to-day dealings our managers and staff are concerned with the many human relationships existing in our communities. We have our customers, both of large and small means, but particularly the latter, who seek assistance from a reliable and trustworthy source."

SOMEWHERE in that silent river of time a man must have known that he must have something to live for or go under. In another age another time there had been much of goodness and beauty to hold—but now for a long time there was nothing. Then suddenly out of the mist, a face rose before him, smooth hair brushed in shining wings from a high white forehead, violet-shadowed eyes, coral lips faintly parted and cool fragrant fingers.

She laughed at him, teased him, beckoned him, and sometimes there were tears, and once voice: "Quite a boy the Lieutenant." He got the D.O.B. And another: "He doesn't know what he's been through on this side." Then the first voice: "Well this is the final operation. Everything will be all right after this." But out of the whirling kaleidoscope it was only Dr. Read and his assistant whose gruff voices might be heard, girl gone. However she came again in the flickering night, and in an enchanted world he talked and she listened and some of the weariness and unreal giddiness seemed to vanish. They danced, and once she did not even notice her steps. And so he turned to follow, his hand burst into a wall of flame that blazed her out. Then there were gentle hands on his forehead, and the comforting coolness of bandages linked at the frames of pain.

After a while she returned and somewhere in that endless night of pain and burning hair, set eyes and peaceful fires, he lay by her in love with her, as a man is in love with life. She filled every lonely part of him, all the secret, silent places of his mind and his thoughts, blotting out everything else even the pain which had lowered over him still now, and a spaced sleep slept. He spoke lightly, and looked to the gray dawn, and for the first time he knew that he would live.

BUCKLEY'S STAINLESS WHITE RUB*Blazing Oil*Threatened A Whole Village When Enemy Planes Scored A Hit

Blazing oil, cascading down a hillside, caused considerable damage when one enemy plane attacked an Admiralty fuel oil installation at Pembroke Dock in August, 1940, starting an 18-day fight against the most protracted oil fire of the war.

This and other big blazes of the war were recalled by V. J. Wilmoth of Petrolia. In May 1941 when enemy planes bombed Swanvale oil installation at Falmouth, escaping spirits flowed into a small stream in the valley below imperiling a number of nearby houses.

Oil tanks were exploded, barrels of empty drums and earth were built to confine the fiery overflow and the fire was overcome after 21 hours.

The Thames Estuary was the scene of a fire which lasted 5½ days. In early June, an attack on Sheerness in 1940, an oil tank at Thorne Haven was hit and the fire spread to two other tanks. On the following day in another attack a direct hit was scored on another large tank. During a third fire, started Sept. 16, an explosion hit yet another tank and this time lasted for 3½ days.

Mr. Wilmoth disclosed that when war began 90 per cent of Britain's petroleum stocks were stored in some 10 major installations.
